School Bus Driver Charged With Molesting Little Girls

Sheriff's detectives have arrested a local school bus driver, identified as Roy E. Phillips, 37, 1213 Carbaugh ave., on serious morals charges involving children. The man reportedly has also been a Sunday school bus driver for several months.

The mother of two young girls aged 11 and 12 called the sheriff's department to complain about the man's alleged activities. The children were questioned by County Policewoman Loretta DiRaimondo, and the older child gave a signed statement accusing the man of having sexually molested her "about 75 times." She also charged that Phillips had committed similar acts with her younger sister and with a girlfriend her same age.

According to the girl, her 11-year-old sister had accidentally witnessed an act. She said that Phillips warned her not to tell her mother saying that she would become "real mad".

The school girl told investigators that she had submitted to the man "three or four times a week," and that these incidents occurred when her mother was away from home at work. She said that Phillips generally gave her 50c or $1.00 for complying with his wishes, and that he had also given her girlfriend a dollar when he allegedly molested her in her presence.

The youngster added that he had engaged in sexual relations with her younger sister "many times." Deputies said the younger child's abdomen was swollen, and that medical examinations have been planned to determine if this is an indication of pregnancy or perhaps a rupture.

In a signed statement given to detectives Eugene Graham and Eugene Ebens, Phillips admitted that he had molested the older girl about fifty times and the younger child from twelve to fifteen times. He admitted also that he had subjected them to unnatural acts a few times. He noted that "they never fought much." He said the first incident occurred after he had accidentally come upon the older girl using an old shed for a bathroom. He said that he would have relationships with the child, "whenever I happened to catch her," while her mother was away.

Deputies were also checking reports that the man allegedly had fondled young girls as they boarded the school bus he operated. He did not admit such incidents, however.

Phillips told a NEWS reporter that he believes he must enter a guilty plea in court. He admitted that he had done the things he had been charged with and claimed, "I need help." He told the NEWS that he wanted to see a doctor and that he thought the solution to his problems would be, "that operation."

Phillips is being held in county jail under $3,500 bond set by Magistrate Robert Coplan.
